

The Board of Directors of the Courtenay Airpark Association was proud to present a $1000.00 Pilot Bursary to Jericho Tomlin at the Courtenay Airpark on Saturday morning, 24 July 2021.

Jericho is a newly-minted Private Pilot, who lives in Courtenay and is working on his Commercial Pilot Licence with Sealand Flight through its satellite flying training school based at the Airpark. He was recommended for the bursary by Nancy Marshall, the Manager of Sealand Flight in Campbell River, based on his dedication, motivation and desire for a career in aviation.

The Pilot Bursary was presented to Jericho by Ray Henault, President of Board of Directors, at a short ceremony at the Airpark. He was accompanied for the presentation by Airpark Board members Martin Wilson, Mike Radeka and Gord Rose, as well Mr. Bill Alder - the owner of Sealand Aerospace - and Max Courtney, the new Sealand Flight instructor who lives in Comox and provides flying training at the Airpark.

The accompanying photo includes, from left to right: Max Courtney; Ray Henault; Jericho Tomlin; Bill Alder; and, Gord Rose.

Jericho was very grateful for the Pilot Bursary, indicating that it would provide him with great assistance in continuing his Commercial Pilot training. The Courtenay Airpark Association is proud of the contribution, demonstrating its strong commitment to the new generation of aviators that are pursuing a career in aviation.

courtenayairpark.com